We warmly invite you to view Leigh Rowles' exhibition showcasing a series of abstract expressionist paintings, exploring the theme of Soul, Science & Self.

The eclectic paintings in this collection encourage introspection in the viewer while gesturing to the universal aspects of the human experience. The artist explores an intimate dialogue between human vulnerability in the form of 'Self', the infinite possibilities offered by 'Science' and the eternal wisdom of the creative 'Soul'.

The alluring rhythmic qualities in Leigh's paintings are reflected in her expressive curving lines, energetic gestural brushstrokes and intricately patterned motifs, all adeptly achieved within a harmonious palette.

The artist's unique style is imbued with dynamic movement and intense colour, communicating a pure vitality which pervades her paintings. These meditative compositions invite multiple interpretations and are intended to awaken a sensory and emotional response.

The paintings suggest a significance beyond the aesthetic, engaging us in visual conversation with states of being, facilitated by the artist's interior vision, where interconnection remains at the heart of the work.

In the artist's own words "Soul, Science & Self is an artistic exploration via painting ... of philosophical connotations ... of connectedness, incongruities, similarities, vicissitudes, contradictions and sameness ...and finally, of unity, via three planes of deep meaning."

These evocative paintings will resonate with art collectors in search of abstract work with poetic power.
